Robberies and Shooting of Policeman Confessed.

BY GENEVIEVE FORBES.

She has the timid smile of a school girl and the broad smile of a bandit leader. She slouches about in men's clothes and nibbles chocolate on the street. She has a dimple, and a police officer.

Blanche Voorhees McIntosh, held in custody at the West Chicago police station, tonight she is as bad as the seven men companions held at East Chicago avenue station.

Warner, 11, 1134 Cleveland avenue, who was arrested early yesterday morning with her six companions in an auto at Ontario street, facing a 45 caliber gun, had a different story.

Warner told the police she met Mrs. McIntosh several days ago at State and Randolph, when he invited her to a riding with him.

"I told her," Warner said, "that I was robbing people. But she said she wanted to go into the game herself. Only she said 'mix 'em up' stores, but why stick up pedestrians and taxicabs? Members of Gang.

The gang, as rounded up last night by Sgt. Victor Bok and Francis O'Malley of East Chicago avenue station, includes Warner, Roy Wilke and Harry Wilke, 747 North La Salle street, Earl Briggs and William Briggs, 333 North Franklin street, Edward Johnson, 597 Orleans street, and Edward Reed, 1148 Townsend street.

Least Arthur Moore, 40 East Chicago avenue, in charge of the investigation, declares the gang has committed more than fifty robberies in the last few months. Lovers lane, Rogers Park, and Sheffield avenue were the favorite districts. Yellow Cab chauffeurs were the most sought after victims.

The men admitted participating in the robbery of the following Yellow Cab drivers: Al Schmitt, 4900 South Lawrence avenue, July 4, 30 and his cab. Harry Sedick, 1607 South Turner avenue, July 1, 314. Harry Reed, 6333 Gladys avenue, July 4, 317.

Charles Bernstein, 4546 North Sawyer avenue, July 11, 323.

Admitted Shooting at Policeman. Warner admitted having shot at a policeman in Gary a week and a half ago, when he tried to stop them as they were part in a stolen machine.

A few days later, he confessed, on a street road coming from Lemont, he was fired at a policeman. Warner, with the short cropped hair and the evasive glances, told her story to Edith O'Malley.

"These shoes are too big, and the collar's too tight," she said, and the squeaky soprano, looked to Lieut. Mooney.

"But I couldn't see dishing hash in a block eat house all my life, so I decided to blow. Well, what chance would a girl nowadays have, compared with a man? So I switched into these duds."

"And besides, what do you think would happen to a girl in girl's clothes, beating her way up trains, lying around freights, and sharing grub with every man she met?" Denying that she knew anything about the shooting of Richard C. Taylor, killed in the alley back of his home four weeks ago by a girl who "swilled as she fired," Blanche laughed a bit as she said, "Gen. my smile wouldn't haunt anybody, not even my sweetie."

Arrested Year Ago. Police records show that Blanche, in company with Ruth Blagg, another Danville girl, were arrested at the La Salle street station, Chicago, about a year ago, with a man who claimed to have taken the girls from Danville. The Blagg girl was paroled, but Blanche was released.

Danville records connect the girl with a gang of foremen said to be running run between Clinton, Ind., and Chicago.

"Me and run? That's funny," the girl suspected declared last night. "I ran coffee in the Rainbow restaurant in Danville, that's the nearest I ever came to the liquor."

Blaming all her troubles on the separation of her mother and father and the death of her own husband, Arthur McIntosh, a millworker, Mrs. McIntosh declares that she came to Chicago three weeks ago to forest her husband, whose present whereabouts are unknown, and to try to find her mother, Mrs. Ida Voorhees.

Trail Another Gang. Detectives under Lieut. Axel Jensen believed they had picked up the trail of a gang of four taxi bandits last night when they obtained confessions from John Nelson, 316 Siegel street, and Mike Wehrstein, 1920 Howe street. The gang is charged with more than 100 holdups in the last five or six months. Sergeants Larrall, Smith and Kennedy are hunting James "Red" Harley McGuire, Arthur Ehlers, known as the "Levin Kid," Andrew Stehly, and James McMahon, known as "Tummy."

MUNICH KEEPS DOWN BEER RATE FOR U. S. ATHLETES

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
BERLIN, July 17.—Chicagans in Munich will be covered with laurels tomorrow. Mr. Heisel of the Gymnastic club of Chicago and Mr. Heisel of the Lincoln club are scheduled to be among the participants in the Munich international meet. Munich is trying to prove to the world that it keeps a kind heart for athletes. The brewers association, which has agreed to increase its prices 100 per cent, postponed the enforcement of this increase today in order to allow the athletes to enjoy Munich's famous product.

'MOSQUITO MARY' STILL DODGING SWAMP HUNTERS

Wausau, Wis., July 17.—The search for Mary Lavando, who has been missing since July 9, entered into the watchful waiting stage tonight, with Sheriff Arthur Stewart hopeful of locating the girl but unable to announce any developments during the day.

The girl, who is 20 years old, dropped out of sight the day before her step-mother, Mrs. William Lavando, was attacked and cut about the head and face, while asleep in her home and no definite trace of her has been found.

Mrs. Lavando, recently released from a hospital, has returned to her home and is expected to be completely recovered soon from her injuries. How she came by them is still an unsolved question which authorities believe can be cleared if the missing girl is located.

Yesterday a woman resembling the girl was seen in the vicinity of the swamp where it is believed by many she is hiding. Searching parties returning from the swamp, which is almost inaccessible, declared that no one could live in the swamp for any length of time because of the swarms of mosquitoes and deer flies.

Sheriff Stewart is convinced that the girl is at the home of friends in the vicinity of the swamp and said tonight he would continue to place guards to watch for her.

WALES COMING TO UNITED STATES, BUT INCOGNITO

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
LONDON, July 17.—It is stated that the Prince of Wales is contemplating a visit to the United States during his trip to a Canadian ranch this fall. He will travel as the Duke of Rothesay, one of his minor titles. The Union League club of Chicago invited him to live at the club as its guest, but it has been advised that the prince is declining all public invitations. He desires to be allowed to travel as a private individual so that he may learn something about America, which he was not able to do on his ceremonial visit.

MRS. NITTS 'CONFESSION' IS HER OLD STORY

A report that Mrs. Sabella Nitts, sentenced to die on the gallows for the murder of her husband, had broken down and made a confession of the crime yesterday caused a flurry of excitement in the county jail.

The statement was taken down by a nurse who has been at the bedside of the woman since Saturday, when she was sentenced to hang on Oct. 12, Assistant State's Attorney Milton D. Smith hurried to the jail.

The "confession" proved to be a rambling story of how a son of the woman had killed Frank Nitts during a fist fight over a loan of $400.

"It's the same story she told on the witness stand during the trial," said Prosecutor Smith. "It's all untrue."

INTERNATIONAL HARVESTER HIT BY NEW U.S. MOVE

Daugherty Asks Division Into Three Parts.

(BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.)

Washington, D. C., July 17.—(Special.)—Proceedings against the International Harvester company supplemental to the litigation in progress for the last ten years were instituted today by Attorney General Daugherty.

A petition was filed in the United States District court at St. Paul asking for a decree dissolving the company into at least three separate and independent corporations as suggested by the federal trade commission in a report of the senate in May, 1920.

It is declared in the petition that the provisions of the original decree entered against the International Harvester company on Nov. 1, 1918, under the Sherman anti-trust law, providing for the disposition of the company into the Osborn, Champion, and Milwaukee lines of harvesting machines "are inadequate to achieve the declared purpose to restore competitive conditions."

Three Companies Proposed. The three separate companies proposed would include two implement companies of substantially equal size, one of which would feature the McCormick harvesting machines while the other would handle the Deering line. The third company would take over the steel and coal subsidiaries of the Harvester company.

It is alleged that "other such companies, larger than any other company in the industry, would be able to compete with each other, and other companies could compete on terms of equality with them."

The attorney general wants the court to decree that the International Harvester company "shall be a combination in restraint of trade and commerce in harvesting machinery and shall be monopolizing and attempting to monopolize said trade and commerce in violation of the Sherman anti-trust law and contrary to the public interest, order and decay of this country."

Need for Further Relief. Purposes of the decree of 1918 have not been accomplished, it is stated. Although a test period has elapsed, it is alleged that "other such companies" shall be effectively dissolved, "the monopolistic control exerted by the defendant will increase and the vision of complete monopoly which the organizers of the company had in 1902 will be completely realized and the farmers of the United States will be deprived of free and open competition in the manufacture and sale of harvesting machines."

Harvester Head Comments. Prices of harvesting machinery are the result of "vicious competition," which the Sherman law was enacted to preserve, and are fairly competitive with the prices of other implements fixed by normal competition, Alexander Legge, president of the International Harvester company, said yesterday. He added:

"Without attempting to argue our case at this time, it seems fair to say that the unfortunate condition in which the business of harvesting machines, and in fact, of all other farm implements, find themselves, is due to the serious business depression that affected the entire country beginning in the fall of 1919.

"During the last few years the whole farm implement industry has been in an abnormal and distressing situation, which directly reflects the situation of the farmer. High costs of labor, material, and transportation have burdened it with high manufacturing costs, while low prices for agricultural products have left the farmer unable to buy his normal requirements of farming machinery."

RACE BY A. F. L. AND I. W. W. TO ORGANIZE STEEL

Both Start Drive Here for Union.

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)

Members of the American Federation of Labor and of the I. W. W. apparently have launched rival campaigns to organize workers in the steel industry, with Chicago as the drive headquarters of both factions.

The A. F. L. yesterday opened a small headquarters office in the Transportation building. William Hanson, an official of the Machine Tool Union, and successor to Jay Brown and William E. Foster, is the most prominent organizer following failure of the 1919 strike. It is understood, however, that the A. F. L. is not yet ready to launch its drive.

Leaders of the I. W. W. from their headquarters at 1601 West Madison street, have begun distribution of 100,000 circulars over the Calumet steel district. The circulars urge the workers to "call Gary's bluff, join the workers' union, and strike."

Activities of the organizers, who have been developing their plans for several weeks, have as yet drawn no fire from the employers. The A. F. L. men declare that even though E. H. Gary, chairman of the board of the United States Steel corporation, should seek tentative compromises by granting an eight hour day, their drive will continue any way.

It is understood that a careful study of labor conditions has convinced leaders that a lack of unskilled workers will prevent effective retaliatory tactics by employers. The labor men believe the psychological moment for them has come.

Funds on Hand. Officers of fourteen of the twenty-two international unions active in the 1919 fight will participate in the present drive. It is said, and appropriations from these organizations, together with $70,000 left over from the 1919 fund, will finance the campaign.

W. F. Thompson, secretary of Metal and Machinery Workers' Industrial Union No. 440 of the I. W. W., declared that the A. F. L. men got their inspiration for the drive from his organization, which, he said, was responsible for successful strikes last year at Chicago Heights and at Bethlehem this year.

AMMONIA PLANT BLAST DRIVES OUT WORKERS

More than a hundred workmen in the ammonia plant of Armour & Co., 414 North La Salle street, were driven out by a fire following an explosion in the paint room yesterday. The fire swept the five story structure and endangered several tanks of hydrogen in the plant of the Burdett Oxygen and Hydrogen company, a few yards away.

Firemen, summoned on a 3-11 alarm, were equipped with gas masks and dashed into the ammonia plant in search of workers reported to be overcome by the fumes.

The explosion is believed to have been caused by spontaneous combustion of paints and oils and benzine, according to officials of Armour & Co. A number of smaller explosions followed the first. The damage will not exceed $10,000, M. P. Hardin, manager of the ammonia works, said.

Two State Constables Are Arrested for Police Fraud

Two members of the state constabulary, William Nathan and Joseph Rasmussen, were arrested yesterday on a charge of obtaining $10 from the Lake View Trust and Savings bank by posing as solicitors for the policemen's benevolent fund.

The constables were arrested by Sgt. Harry Donnelly and T. J. Doyle at the offices of the constabulary, 120 South State street.

FRANCO-GERMAN ALLIANCE URGED BY PARIS PAPER

Mouthpiece of Poincare Attacks Britain.

(Copyright 1923 by the New York Times.)

PARIS, July 17.—The semi-official Temps comes out tonight with the proposal that France and Germany arrange their own differences without the intervention of England.

This almost Chautauque proposal is made by the Temps on ground that England seeks only her own welfare and at the expense of both France and Germany.

London should be looked to, less, thinks the Temps, and people of the continent should be their own masters. If this suggestion, brought forward bluntly by the Temps which takes its inspiration from Quai d'Orsay, represents Premier Poincare's idea, it may mean a most important turn in European affairs.

Plan to Dominate Europe. Then again it may be partly a bluff. But in judging the nationalist French angle on the European issue it must be borne in mind that France, the strongest nation in Europe today, would naturally dominate. It has been the nationalist plan to dominate Europe by a system of alliances but if now they plan to take in Germany, the trend takes on a different direction.

The Temps, together with other nationalist French papers, finds the key to English thought in former Prime Minister Lloyd George's speech yesterday. They cite that Mr. Lloyd George, after calling attention to France's building up her industrial machine to manufacture many articles which Britain produces, and after referring to coming German competition, he said that peace on the continent wouldn't necessarily bring prosperity to England.

"The words of Lloyd George," says Temps, "show not only he is jealous of France but Germany worries him too, and he wishes ill to Germany for the same reasons he wishes ill to France."

Wants Franco-German Entente. "If England continues this policy," he reply to Germany has the effect of damaging France and exciting Germany to resistance, does England think that will do her commerce any good?"

"The British are in a modern world the last surviving representatives of those rapacious clans, which in other times founded empires and of which no sample now rules over any great people of the continent."

And that is why the people of the continent ought to move and move to get together and settle their own affairs. Between France and Germany the real difference is much less the amount of reparations, than means of payment. In the settlement of our troubles we shall facilitate an entente between France and Germany and enable the allies of yesterday to understand each other."

DUSSELDORF, July 17.—(By the Associated Press.)—Bochnum today is almost completely isolated from the rest of the Ruhr as the result of bomb throwing. Street car traffic has been suspended and all the restaurants, picture shows, and other places of public assembly have been closed.

SIFT CHARGE OF FAVORITISM IN TEACHERS' JOBS

Trustees to Inquire Into Promotion Methods.

William H. Campbell, secretary of the board of trustees, was called before the school committee of the board of education yesterday to answer charges of favoritism in the promotion of teachers to higher salary groups.

This has meant the loss of hundreds of dollars to the teachers' fund.

Full Inquiry Ordered.

Campbell reported that Miss Haley's statements were not accurate, that the records she produced were not authentic, and that the rules of the committee had not been materially changed in ten years.

"If any such thing happened it was due to a clerical error," he said.

That explanation is getting monotonous, replied Miss Haley.

The trustees, dissatisfied with the showing, voted for a full investigation, to be continued next Tuesday before the rules committee.

Findings Neglected.

Mrs. W. E. Hoffman, reporting the result of an investigation of vestage of school books, told the members: "I find books are utterly neglected. Some are thrown on the floor, some are left where the rats eat them, and there is no doubt much money is lost through this negligence."

A questionnaire will be mailed to principals, at her suggestion, asking what action they take for the preservation of books.

Ernest E. Cole, former first assistant superintendent of schools, which position recently was abolished, was assigned to the high school as principal.

SALESMEN AND NEW RELEASES.

Employees of the school department of both the Board of Education and the Board of Trustees are urged to report any loss of school books to the nearest principal.

machine swung in front of them and Gosta, forgetting the warning and the pistol held at his head, stopped quickly to avoid a collision. It was then the Gosta was taken to the county hospital, one killed through his jaw and the other in the lower part of his head, behind the ear.

After the shooting, Salerno caused the arrest of his wife and Gilbert, and this case was to have been heard today in the Court of Domestic Relations.

Sample a Reconciliation.

The police were informed that Salerno had endeavored to arrange a reconciliation with his wife, and had hunted Gilbert up with the intention of forcing him to leave Mrs. Salerno.

The detectives gave credence to the theory that Gilbert claimed Mrs. Salerno was more than content to remain with the boarder in fact, refused to leave him. This, they theorized, was what was in Salerno's mind when he shot.

CHARLOTTE, MAD EX-EMPRESS OF MEXICO, DYING

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)

BRUSSELS, July 17.—Former Empress Charlotte of Mexico, a melancholy baroness of one of the adventurous episodes of the nineteenth century in history, is dying at her chateau at Dehouche, near Brussels.

Former Empress Charlotte is 83 years of age and has been dead since June 19, 1921, when her husband, Emperor Maximilian of Mexico, was shot dead in her presence at Queretaro, Mexico.

Looked up in her stately castle near here, Charlotte has not moved through the events of half a century, which have destroyed the Hapsburgs and Hohenzollerns.

The insane empress was carefully guarded during the German occupation, the halber ordering that full attention be given to her wants.

Charlotte's nephew, the king of Belgium, hurried to Dehouche today. He is said to be very fond of the gentle, written old empress, who still thinks she is in Mexico.

ALLIES TO SIGN TURKISH PEACE PACT ON JULY 24

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)

LAUSANNE, July 17.—At the plenary session of the near east peace conference this afternoon the allies and Turkey decided that the peace treaty will be signed on Tuesday, July 24.

The allies dispatched an invitation to Russia to send a representative to Lausanne to sign the straits convention.

Following the British failure to have the Mosul concessions validated by treaty the question will now be settled privately between Great Britain and Turkey. The United States contends the concession is invalid. The British and Turkey must also settle within nine months the new boundary between Mosul and Turkey or submit the matter to the league of nations for arbitration.

Seeks to Enjoin Excess Profits Tax Collection.

Reincke, collector of internal revenue, will be filed today asking that the bureau be enjoined from collecting excess profits taxes from Leon Starnan, president of the Scotch Woolen Mills, according to announcement yesterday by William Kix Miller, attorney for the company.

The suit is intended to create a test case which may determine the payment or nonpayment of millions of dollars. The sum at issue is only $1,400.

HEIRS OF SWETT DROP FIGHT TO BREAK HIS WILL

Further revelation of the supposed idiosyncrasies and delusions of William H. Swett, founder of the Knickerbocker Ice company, whose will was attacked by nine distant heirs, was disclosed yesterday. A jury before Judge Rush, by agreement of the litigants, was instructed to bring in a verdict declaring Swett to be sane at the time he executed his will, and honoring Mrs. Mary Juliette Cooper of the Plaza hotel of Indianapolis Swett to leave his $250,000 estate to charity.

Though attorneys refused to divulge the amount settled on the relatives by trustees of the estate, it was reported they received not more than $30,000.

Attorney Eugene F. Quirk, counsel for the contesting heirs refused to verify the amount.

Two Chicker taxicab drivers, Harold Deagan, 2303 Ogden avenue, and Peter Rush, 4444 Gladys avenue, were held to the grand jury on charges of robbery by Judge W. M. Gemmill of the Maxwell street court yesterday. Bonds were set at $50,000. The men, it was alleged, held up two yellow cab drivers on July 1, taking $41 from them. According to the police a revolver and the stolen money was found in the possession of Deagan and Rush.

NOTE HOLDERS ELEVATED LINE PROPOSE MERGE

Seek to Protect 14 Million Securities

BY O. A. MATHER.

Another chapter in the financial history of Chicago's transportation service was written yesterday. It consisted of announcement of plans for readjustment and reorganization of the Chicago elevated road system. The plan is offered as a protective committee represents holders of $14,000,000 of notes between 1914 and 1919 have been in default for several years.

The effect of the plan will be to liquidate the four elevated companies into one corporation. Although roads have been operated for several years as a unit, they have maintained their separate corporate entities (their securities have been undisturbed).

Will Reduce Capital.

The present plan calls for a drastic scaling down of capitalization. The present outstanding debt and securities of the four companies is $12,845,000. In the new corporation it is proposed to reduce this total to $87,100,000. The property value of the companies as fixed by the Illinois public utilities commission's valuation on June 30, 1919, for rate-making purposes is $89,514,923.

The proposed reduction in capitalization is about $34,700,000. This will be accomplished chiefly by the wiping out of the Chicago Elevated Railway's preferred stock, which is now valued at $10,000,000. The new corporation will have a 250,000 of common stock, but this will go to holders of other securities of all companies.

Equipment Notes Undisturbed.

In the proposed reorganization underlying mortgage bonds and equipment notes of the operating companies, which total $46,704,000, will remain undisturbed. The exchange starts with the junior securities. It is planned to follow the underlying securities with $1,000,000 of first lien and refund mortgage bonds, $15,563,000 of adjustment debenture bonds, and $30,525,000 of common stock.

Holders of Chicago Elevated railway secured gold notes as extended to July 1, 1919, will receive for each $1,000 $100 in first lien 6 per cent bonds $1,170 in adjustment debentures, $1,180 in common stock. The first bonds are due in 1925 and the debentures in 1928. Holders of notes extended will receive the same amount of bonds and debentures but no common stock.

Holders of Chicago Elevated railway ten year 6 per cent debentures, July 1, 1924, will receive $70 in common stock for each $100 of debentures.

Must Deposit Securities.

For these security-holders participation in the reorganization plan is conditioned on the deposit of their securities with the National City bank of New York and the Continental and Commercial Trust and Savings bank of Chicago.

No provision is made under the plan for any of the shares, preferred or common, of Chicago Elevated railway, the announcement states, "for holders of the notes or of the debentures who do not participate in the plan. Any securities which would be deliverable under the plan to such holders, had they participated, must be deposited with the plan."

NOTE HOLDERS OF ELEVATED LINES PROPOSE MERGER

Seek to Protect Their 14 Million Securities.

BY O. A. MATHER.

Another chapter in the troubled history of Chicago's transportation service was written yesterday. It consisted of announcement of plans for reorganization and reorganization of the Chicago elevated railway system. The plan is offered by a protective committee representing holders of $14,000,000 of notes issued in 1914 and which have been in default for several years.

The effect of the plan will be to combine the four elevated companies into one corporation. Although the plan has been operated for several years as a unit, they have maintained their separate corporate entities and their securities have been undisturbed.

Will Reduce Capital.
The present plan calls for a drastic reduction of capitalization. The present outstanding debt and securities of the four companies is about $12,500,000. In the new corporation it is proposed to reduce this total to $10,000,000. The property value of the companies as fixed by the Illinois public utility commission's valuation of June 30, 1919, for rate making purposes is $29,514,932.

The proposed reduction in capitalization is about $24,500,000. This will be accomplished chiefly by the wiping out of the Chicago Elevated Railway preferred and common shares, which at par value amount to about $24,500,000. The new corporation will have $10,000,000 of common stock, but this will go to holders of other securities of the old companies.

Equipment Notes Undisturbed.
In the proposed reorganization the underlying mortgage bonds and equipment notes of the operating companies, which total $46,704,000, will remain undisturbed. The exchange starts with the junior securities. It is planned to follow the underlying securities with $10,000,000 of first lien and refunding mortgage bonds, $15,500,000 of adjustable debenture bonds, and $20,500,000 common stock.

Holders of Chicago Elevated railway secured gold notes as extended to July 1, 1915, will receive for each $1,000 note $100 in first lien 6 per cent bonds, $15.50 in adjustable debentures, and $20.50 in common stock. The first lien bonds are due in 1925 and the debentures in 1927. Holders of notes not extended will receive the same amount of bonds and debentures but no common stock.

Holders of Chicago Elevated railway 10 per cent debentures, due July 1, 1924, will receive $75 in common stock for each $100 of debentures.

Must Deposit Securities.
For these security holders participation in the reorganization plan is conditioned on the deposit of their securities with the National City bank of New York and the Continental and Commercial Trust and Savings bank of Chicago.

"No provision is made under the plan for any of the shares, preferred or common, of Chicago Elevated railways," the announcement states, "or for holders of the notes or of the debentures who do not participate in the plan. Any securities which would be convertible under the plan to such holders, had they participated, may be disposed of by the reorganization committee for the purpose of the reorganization."

The elevated railways of Chicago are owned by the Northwestern Elevated Railroad company, the Metropolitan West Side Elevated Railway company, the South Side Elevated Railroad company, and the Chicago and Oak Park Elevated Railroad company, now in the hands of a receiver. The properties of the four companies are operated under single management as a unified system. The entire capital stocks of the three first named companies, sometimes called the "subsidiary" companies, are owned by the Chicago Elevated railways collateral trust.

The note holders' protective committee was formed in 1919, consisting of Charles E. Mitchell, George M. Reynolds, John H. Mason, and R. Floyd Clinch.

Neighbors' Complaint of Noisy Party Dismissed
Charges of disorderly conduct against Louis I. Fisher, 1534 Birchwood avenue, were dismissed yesterday by Judge Joseph LaBuy. It had been alleged that a noisy all night party had taken place in Fisher's home. Fisher said a group of high school students had given a surprise party for his wife's sister at his home that night and he and his wife had left the house.

Burglars looted two offices in a building at 886 West Lake street, raised the safe, and carried away the contents. It was reported to the police yesterday. The amount of loot was not known.

Tells of Tracing Crime by Culprit's Handwriting
Tracing crime through handwriting was explained to the Rotary club at its weekly meeting in the Hotel Sherman yesterday by Jay Fordyce Wood, handwriting expert and examiner of disputed documents. Mr. Wood told how John Magnuson was convicted of murder at Wisconsin Rapids, Wis., last fall after the address he had printed on a bomb had been traced. Personality and character are also shown in handwriting, Mr. Wood said. Even the cleverest forger cannot wholly rule out his own personality, it is said.

Madame Bourskaya, Opera Star, Gets "First Papers"
Mrs. Ina Bourskaya, opera singer, applied for citizenship papers in the federal building yesterday. She gave her age as 34 years and her residence as 542 South Linden avenue, Highland Park. Mrs. Bourskaya was born in Russia and came to America in 1921. Witold Bourskaya, her husband, is in Russia.

"I want to become a good American citizen," she said.

There was a feeling among the aldermen that the effort to buy the elevated and surface lines lacks vigor or other characteristic which would make the attempt look promising. This feeling appeared in the face of an official and company attitude more nearly unanimous for municipal ownership than at any time in twenty or more years.

Representatives of both the surface and elevated lines have said they are willing to sell, one alderman aside, the situation. The city council has the Schwartz plan of certificates with which to pay. Mayor Dever has placed himself on record in favor of that plan.

"The Democratic leaders have conclusively proven by the vote in the organization of the council, and also on the zoning plan, that they can whip the city council into line for what the mayor desires. So it is reasonable to suppose the mayor can put over the Schwartz plan if and when he wants to." Added to that is the expiration of the surface lines franchise in 1927.

Nobody Hindering or Criticizing.
"Nobody, not even a newspaper, is criticizing or otherwise hindering action."

Then came his suggestion of caution, of holding out in the first sentence. He went on:

"In my opinion the people will never vote on a referendum to issue certificates to buy the lines unless they at the same time are promised large improvements in service. Therefore I see no chance of getting a test of the validity of the certificates until we have worked out a physical plan forecasting improvements in service, forecasting improvements in service."

Tells of Tracing Crime by Culprit's Handwriting
Tracing crime through handwriting was explained to the Rotary club at its weekly meeting in the Hotel Sherman yesterday by Jay Fordyce Wood, handwriting expert and examiner of disputed documents. Mr. Wood told how John Magnuson was convicted of murder at Wisconsin Rapids, Wis., last fall after the address he had printed on a bomb had been traced. Personality and character are also shown in handwriting, Mr. Wood said. Even the cleverest forger cannot wholly rule out his own personality, it is said.

HEADS OF BOTH
IRISH STATES
MEET IN LONDONDe Valera Out with New Plan to Free Ireland.

BY JOHN STEELE
[Chicago Tribune Special News Service.]
LONDON, July 17.—(Tribune Radio.)—It was announced here that Sir James Craig, prime minister of Ulster, and William Cosgrave, president of the cabinet of the Irish Free State, met in London today to discuss the boundary question and a number of other problems affecting both governments. The meeting, which was of the friendliest character, was designed to find a common course of action.

Interest in Belfast.
BELFAST, July 17.—(By the Associated Press.)—Irish leaders in both North and South Ireland were greatly interested today over the announcement of the meeting between Mr. Cosgrave and Sir James Craig in London, this being the first time the two had ever met, at least as the heads of their respective governments.

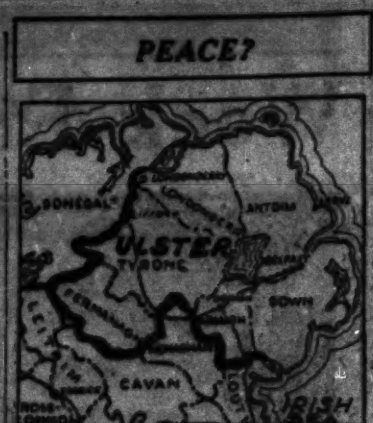

Coincidentally it was announced by officials of the Free State government in Dublin that President Cosgrave was soon to visit the north of Ireland on official business and might then meet Prime Minister Craig again.

The announcement said any suggestion that the visit would be connected with the Ulster-Free State boundary question was unfounded.

Peace in Ulster.
There were no cases of murder, attempted murder, manslaughter, or incendiarism in Ulster during the last three months. Lord Chief Justice Moore said today in opening the Belfast crime commission. In the same period last year there were of these crimes respectively 28, 40, 2, and 140.

PARIS, July 17.—Breaking a silence of many months, Eamon de Valera, erstwhile president of the Irish Republic, said today in a statement smuggled here by airplane, that the Irish Free State is doomed and that Ireland will soon be striving again for unity and independence.

Despite alleged efforts of the Free State troops to capture him, De Valera is in Dublin, gathering the scattered republican elements of Sinn Féin into a new organization, Mr. de Valera indicates his new policy is based on political fines, rather than military, for the present.

Paris is in Dublin, gathering the scattered republican elements of Sinn Féin into a new organization, Mr. de Valera indicates his new policy is based on political fines, rather than military, for the present.

"The Sinn Féin movement is being reorganized," Mr. de Valera, in his statement. "The policy will probably be an assertion that Ireland's independence cannot be signed away, or voted away. Nor can any portion of Ireland's territory be so disposed of. Parallel with this assertion will be a denial of the right of any foreign authority to rule in Ireland."

He was charged with having stabbed to death Henry C. Blaine, 4404 Indiana avenue, more than a year ago. According to the state's witness, Granville Jones, Blaine boarded a street car on which Benson was riding. In passing Blaine stepped on the colored man's toes. The former apologized, but Benson was surly. Blaine walked to the rear platform and in a few minutes Benson followed. He drew a knife from his pocket and stabbed Blaine, who died a few hours later.

Woman and Child Latest

"Chicago motorists are speed mad," declared Ald. Frank J. Tommasi, chairman of Mayor Dwyer's safety commission yesterday as he urged upon automobile drivers the slogan, "Observe the laws—save a life."
"Automobiles kill from 600 to 700 persons yearly," he said at the meeting of the commission. "This year the total will run over 800 unless something is done. Two-thirds of the accidents occur in bright daylight, and 89 per cent in residential districts."
A meeting of the municipal judges, has been called by Chief Justice Harry Olson for July 27, when an amendment to the rules of the court will be submitted providing for the arrest of careless and intoxicated drivers and their being held in police stations until they furnish a substantial cash or real estate bond to assure their presence in court.

The amendment, sponsored by Judges Olson and Henry M. Walker of the Speeders' court, is expected to end the evil of the arrest slip, by which motorists have been permitted to proceed without the inconvenience of being taken to police stations.
Mrs. Lydia Gauger of LaGrange died in her home yesterday as a result of injuries suffered June 3 when the automobile in which she was riding was struck by another driven by Arthur Kraschewski, 4372 West 31st street. Kraschewski was held to the grand jury on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon, preferred immediately after the accident. A coroner's jury was impaneled yesterday and the case continued to enable Capt. Plummer to produce more witnesses.

Mrs. Gauger, who was 52 years old, was the wife of Henry Gauger, a native of LaGrange.

A "vampire" motorist yesterday struck and seriously injured Hyatt Hahn, 6 years old, 2105 North Kilbuck avenue, and after looking back at the boy's body lying in the street, drove rapidly away. Irving Park police are searching the north side for the driver of the automobile, which bore an Ohio license tag.
The boy was playing with other children in the street at Kilbuck avenue and Argo street when the automobile bore down upon them.

BELIEVE LOWDEN WILL MAKE RACE AGAINST SMALL

Former Gov. Frank O. Lowden gradually is being forced towards a decision in the Republican gubernatorial situation.

His answer to the proposition of becoming the standard bearer for the anti-Small forces in 1924 probably will be given soon. The chances are more than even that Illinois' war governor will head the call of united anti-Small elements of the party and become a candidate against "King Lem."

Lowden is feeling the pressure stronger every day. It has been apparent with renewed vigor since the acquittal of Fred Lundin and indications that the ex-governor of Chicago, "Boss" Lowden, will attempt a comeback. The Lundin comeback preparations indicate, will be tried in the state machine with Gov. Small leading the whites.

"Good Roads" Battle Cry.
The "good roads" slogan, played to the tune of the old Lundin-Cheney callopie, is the program for Gov. Small. Money and jobs at Gov. Small's disposal can foot the bills.

It will be a sacrifice of personal and family affairs for Lowden to run for governor, his intimates say. On the other hand, a declaration from him that he will make the race as a debt of gratitude to the state and party that honored him would clarify the situation at once, most leaders agree. Even those who have no personal liking for the ex-governor or who nourish secret or selfish hopes that he will decide to stay at Stinson's farm admit the problem would be solved by his candidacy.

In the Republican race would be wiped out with a single swing. None of them, the wisecracks say, would run against Lowden. Behind him the voice on mass on the state house and the issue would be clear out. This, the leaders say, is a quick and certain way of reaching the desired situation.

Small Patches Patches.
In the meantime Gov. Small is patching fences downtown. Two recent appointments by the governor indicate some of his plans. Former Congressman Clifford Ireland of Peoria has lately become director of trade and commerce and another ex-congressman, Edwin B. Brooks of Newton, has been maneuvered into a state job. Henry H. Kohn of Anna, close friend and ally of Secretary of State Hammerman in "Egyptian" politics, was named as superintendent of state supplies to make room for Brooks. Lawrence H. Becker of Kankakee was transferred to Kohn's job while Brooks became superintendent of charities to succeed Becker.

McADOO DETAILS HIS RELATIONS WITH C. W. MORSE

Crowded Court Listens to Former Secretary.

Washington, D. C., July 17.—For nearly two hours today William G. McAdoo, former secretary of the treasury, occupied the witness stand in federal court here and detailed his relations as counsel with Charles W. Morse, the shipper operator, official for alleged frauds against the government.

Reports that his appearance would be accompanied by important defense witnesses, packed the courtroom with spectators, but for the most part Mr. McAdoo had a peaceful experience as a witness for the defense.

Followed Official Relations.

His brief cross-examination by District Attorney Gordon here somewhat into the relations of Mr. McAdoo with officials of the Wilson administration, but developed few facts which had not been disclosed in previous testimony.

The law firm of McAdoo, Cotton & Franklin of New York, the witness testified, became counsel for the Morse interests after he left the cabinet and represented them in three capacities.

The firm served as counsel for the Virginia Shipbuilding corporation, operating a war shipbuilding yard at Alexandria, Va., and for the Gricon Iron Works, another shipyard in Connecticut, and aided the Morse shipping in terests in securing coal tonnage contracts abroad.

Tells of Free.

Mr. McAdoo said he had no stock in the Morse companies. His firm, he said, had received total cash fees of $21,000 and held unpaid obligations of the Morse for a like amount. In some already paid were $10,000. In some already paid were $10,000. In some already paid were $10,000.

The Morse business, the witness said, was accepted only after careful investigation, which developed that Senator Davis Elkins of West Virginia and Edward B. McLean, Washington publisher, were at one time listed among the directors of the Virginia corporation.

Much of the former secretary's testimony related to his efforts in 1915 to secure an advance payment of $100,000 from the shipping board and Emergency Fleet corporation and $33,000 in cash on the tonnage contracts.

The Italian Coal Contracts.

In securing coal tonnage contracts for the Morse lines, Mr. McAdoo said the usual fees were charged in negotiations suggested to him, he said, by John A. Donald, a member of the shipping board.

In response to inquiries from the district attorney, the witness said that in negotiating for Italian coal contracts he conferred with members of the Italian war mission, but he added that these men had not been concerned in negotiations he had as secretary of the treasury for government war loans to Italy.

BROOKHART PUTS RUSSIAN REGIME NEXT TO AMERICA

New York, July 17.—[By the Associated Press.]—Senator Brookhart, of Iowa, back from a two weeks' survey of agricultural conditions in Europe, today declared that the election to the senate of Magnus Johnson of Minnesota, was a warning to "the Republican bosses" that something was about to happen in the political situation of the United States.

Senator Brookhart, a Republican, who was elected with the support of the Farmer-Labor bloc to the seat previously held by Senator William S. Kenyon, touched on the presidential situation. Asserting that he had read only three of the speeches which President Harding had delivered on his tour, Mr. Brookhart said:

"I should think that about three more speeches like those would elect Henry Ford by about 10,000,000 majority, if the President is a candidate. It is time the Republican party was looking for a candidate who will fight for the common people and against Wall Street. Some one like Kenyon should be drafted for this purpose."

Likens Russia to United States.

The senator declared that Russian soviet government was second in stability only to that of the United States and that Russia soon would be making inroads upon the grain markets of this country.

"The thing that demands immediate attention is an extra session of congress in the agricultural situation," he said.

Referring to his tour, during which he visited Russia and the principal countries of Europe, Senator Brookhart said:

"The whole world is saying that we are entering upon a new era; great changes are impending, and new developments are at hand. But what is it all to be?"

"This nebulous talk gets nowhere. I was looking for something definite and I think I found it."

Met Leaders of Common People.

"I did not enter a museum, an art gallery or an antique shop; on the whole, but I did see the living leaders of the common people in nearly all the countries of Europe. I talked to the statesmen of this upward movement, and met the leaders and active managers of the great co-operative movements."

"My conclusion is that economic cooperation upon the simple principles of the weavers of Rochdale, is the only constructive idea that has survived the war. It is the only plan that will end the criminal trusts and combinations in America and give to the producers and consumers the just rewards of their labors."

"Radio dispatches on my boat back said there are prospects for big crops in the United States. For forty years the farmers have received less total money for their big crops than for the little ones."

"It will take immediate action of congress along the line of the Norris bill to enable the farmers to get the cost of production out of their present crop. The President should call an extra session immediately."

Although the Commercial Car has long enjoyed a world-wide reputation for faithful, low-cost service, Dodge Brothers are continually making it still better.

The semi-floating rear axle with which it is now equipped, for example, is almost twice as strong as it need be to carry its maximum load.

An extraordinary number of bushings and bearings add immeasurably to the life and stamina of the car.

The multiple disc clutch endures stubbornly in the face of terrific abuse.

The starter and carburetor are noted for responding promptly in any weather.

Combined with unusually attractive body lines, these pronounced advantages make the Commercial Car an investment of undoubted merit.

The price is $350 f. o. b. Detroit—$335 Delivered.

HARDING PARTY LAYS MINNESOTA DEFEAT TO PREUS

President Refuses to Make Any Comment.

BY ORAFFTON WILCOX.

Anchorage, Alaska, July 17.—(Special.)—President Harding today received the news of the defeat of Gov. Preus, Republican, by Magnus Johnsen, Farmer-Labor candidate, in the special Minnesota election. The President made no comment, but he obviously was disappointed.

While on his trip to the Pacific coast the President in his speeches outlined the platform on which he will run for reelection. He was speaking to the whole country and the Minnesota election, the first since the Harding tour, is regarded with significance as indicating the strength of the radical political element in the race.

Think Press Made Error.

The President's advisers are not particularly surprised, however, by the Minnesota result, claiming that the Republicans and Gov. Preus himself had bungled the situation by the long delay following the death of Senator Knute Nelson before deciding their plan of action.

If Preus had appointed a successor to fill the Nelson vacancy and had become a candidate for the senate at the regular election next year, the streets could have been paved for the party. Now, however, the most optimistic of the President's advisers see little hope for the party in Minnesota next year.

It is believed that the President will have in mind the Minnesota result when he makes his Seattle speech and there is considerable speculation as to what he will say. It is expected that the President, who in his recent addresses sought to assure the farmers of the country that the administration would have a liberal policy toward labor and agriculture, may make an effort to be more specific as to the measures to be proposed for relief.

Will Not Visit Hawaii.

Curry, Alaska, July 17.—(By the Associated Press.)—President Harding, although appreciative of an invitation extended by Gov. Farrington and the legislature of Hawaii to visit the island territory before completing a tour which has taken him 500 miles into Alaska, considered it impossible to accept.

The invitation was laid before the chief executive today by Secretary of the Interior Work while Mr. and Mrs. Harding were traveling southward over the government's Alaska railroad.

Mrs. Harding's condition was said by attending physicians today to be improved after a rest yesterday and a comfortable night on the train. It was held to be inadvisable that she make the 500 mile automobile trip from Fairbanks over the Richardson trail because of fatigue and in order to prepare her for a strenuous program on the return to the states.

There is no indication, the doctors

LOUVAIN SCHOOL RISES FROM RUIN LEFT BY GERMANS

LOUVAIN, Belgium, July 17.—(By the Associated Press.)—Louvain university, world famous treasure house of art and learning, destroyed by the Germans early in the Belgian invasion, is rapidly rising from its ashes. Today, less than two years after the laying of the cornerstone, Cardinal Mercier, primate of Belgium, blessed the completed first wing of the restored library, in the building of which the American committee for the restoration of Louvain university played a large part.

Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, professor of Columbia university and chairman of the executive committee of the American organization, delivered an address and placed in the library a book containing the names of the American teachers and school children who contributed nearly $40,000 to the restoration fund.

The finished wing includes the provincial reading room and administration room. These buildings approximate a quarter of those projected under the plan, which call for the expenditure of $1,000,000, half of which already has been raised.

may, that her condition will interfere with the program ahead of that the tour through the states, the Panama canal and Porto Rico would be short, and on her account.

Nearly twenty-four hours were passed by the presidential party in Fairbanks, the northern terminus of the railroad.

BY FRENCH LANE

The fastest hand of thoroughbred racing the barrier during Hawthorne's new racing season went to the actuary, coupled in the betting with the barrier and running as the actuary and the barrier were the lone favorite to triumph.

Nerve Tugging Finish.

None had denied Actuary's early speed and when he raced into the lead as the barrier lifted most of the spectators thought it was only his usual speed. But around the track he flew, first fighting off a stiff challenge from Mary P. Gardner. Then he showed a bit from Lady Madcap into the discard. As they came into the stretch Paul Jones moved up with a mighty rush. They were running stride for stride but Paul Jones was still a nose back when they passed under the wire. The finish was no close affair as Actuary would attempt to guess the result until the numbers were hung out. A ladies' day crowd of 15,000 or upwards watched the long shots in their largest celebration since Hawthorne opened. The conclusion that had come from the taking up of all season's membership badges on the day previous had been ironed out, and it was just a happy racing crowd.

Long Shots Win.

Right off the reel the talent got a going when Great Northern and Tinseltown won the first and second races. The former, who had been almost entirely neglected, outstayed Sea Stakes a great stretch run. Tinseltown, a long shot, won the third race. Then, to add to the day of upsets, Reliability, at 10 to 1, got out in front as the barrier lifted in the third race and was the front runner all the way. Precutcher challenged in heroic fashion in the stretch, but was never good enough to overcome Reliability's early advantage.

The fifth and sixth brought more form upheavals. Jackie Hay, always as good as 8 to 1, and going in his best form, closed a big gap in the late running and was going away six lengths to the good as the fifth ended.

Staunch Wins Last Race.

Staunch, after making up much ground in the early going of the last race, moved forward with a rush at the last turn, conquered Opulent in midstretch and was running easy in his last stride at the wire. Today's entries:

"For often though while admitting that a blackmailer is a despicable creature, you would hardly go so far as to say that he is a murderer."

"I am not admitting you, I've only merely refused to take a more active part in the matter. I've already given the reason I am reluctant to take part in it."

"Montrose sighed. Somehow Thayne was one of misanthropes. Had he, then, any more to say to him?"

"Odd!" said Montrose again. "You offer to assist me; all you kick at is that you hurried up the process. You think."

"This kind of argument is pretty much of the same nature as the one you make for your assumption pass unchallenged me from ringing up the police. Your death will give me, I don't deny it, a great deal of money. You're not going to live, I've often thought of taking your money, but I've never thought of taking your life."

"In that case," said Montrose, "keep me alive."

Thayne took out his pipe and said, "I suppose so. But I can't escape is irrevocable."

"I did not say so. You yourself your attitude to me is genuine you are Thayne hit hard on the stem of it."

"What is it that I can do?"

"Get me some ready money."

"Doesn't link up with the perfectly you the brute came before I expected still had to do—get the necessary cash with the new man, and I forgot that he! I've carefully stored away a certain corner of the earth. And I'm anxious. I can't risk waiting to go to the bank to supply the missing link—"

Thayne laughed bitterly.

"I've got four pounds odd on me."

"You're losing your head," said Montrose, "you've got three clods of a tale you'll be able to cash a check for. I haven't got three hundred in it was paying the room."

"The old boy gave you a thousand. He made you promise not to fail."

"No."

"Well, you can realize tomorrow to the clubs and tell your bank to breaking the promise if he knew it."

Thayne considered the suggestion.

"You know you're asking me to do with being accessory."

"O, I know you can. You're premeditated. You'll be hanged a man, don't tell me that in the history of the world they threw away a million and all the rest of it. Pious crime, stand to any real danger of the law."

Thayne's head was clearing. "I was beginning to see the facts in the matter."

"Supposing I fix it up," he said, "you—stay out, I presume? The what about—"

"Jackie's provided for. As to me, I'm sure you will be sure my absence than you would have been. And now there broke upon Thayne. He need do nothing but withhold the Jacqueline set free. The liberator was a little while and then year after year together."

It was true that the money and shoes and that, in his dreams, he thought that Jacqueline was free of the like a Jew. It was a year before he was free again.

And then once more he heard a wholly unbidden.

"If you will wait here till I come, I can do about the matter."

"Thanks," said Montrose. He took his hand stole to his tin, jerking at down again.

The pale sunlight that had been of Rotterdam Court Road had long since stood upon the steps of the house. Jacqueline, pretending to be in the doorway of the house—she could hear—she had to pass a minute reinforcement, like the proverbial mark upon her. That almost inaudible noise of the dawn to her laughter,

EACH CIRCLE on the map represents one of the 502 towns. Refer by number to the table of towns listed below.

COMPARISON of
The Chicago Sunday Tribune circulation with circulation of leading national weekly in 502 towns of 1,000 or more population where Sunday Tribune reaches at least one out of every five families

NOT ONLY in Illinois, but also in Indiana, and in Iowa, and in Michigan, and in Wisconsin, is The Chicago Tribune an institution of commanding importance. For three generations, The Chicago Tribune has been a leavening influence over a wide area, keeping even the smallest communities in close touch with world events, encouraging independent thinking and destroying provincialism.

Herewith is a list of 502 towns of 1,000 or more population in each of which The Tribune reaches at least 20% of the families and in some of which it reaches 80% of the families. These towns, therefore, are ones in which Tribune advertising can be successfully merchandised to local dealers.

Get out your sales maps and you will find that these are among your most productive markets—or should be. Are you giving your goods in these towns the advertising pressure justified by sales possibilities? If not, ask a Tribune man to call and discuss with you the use of Tribune advertising (exceedingly economical) and Tribune merchandising plans (exceedingly practical) to build your sales.

WHEAT IN RALLY MAKES GAIN, BUT DECEMBER IS OFF

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

With the exception of December wheat at Minneapolis and July at Winnipeg all deliveries in North American markets dropped below $1 yesterday to a new low for the season in the early trading, but the market failed to show the pronounced weakness which has been such a feature of late. On the break there was rather aggressive support, and at the last the near-futures at Chicago were 1/4¢ higher, while December was off 1/4¢. The break in the latter was largely a reflection of spreading operations. December being sold and May bought at 1/4¢ difference.

Chicago grain market was stronger with corn 1/4¢ higher at the close and oats 1/4¢ higher, while wheat was weak and 1/4¢ lower.

July wheat broke to 94¢, and September to 93¢ shortly after the opening, with leading sales a factor. Local holders were estimated to have bought around 80,000 bu., but in the southwest offerings continue light. The Minnesota market had some wheat, and at one time there was a sharp break on a statement made by Representative Sydney Anderson of Minnesota who was quoted as calling for another investigation of the grain exchange, claiming he could see little hope for better markets in Europe for some time to come.

Corn Strength Helps Wheat.

The exceptional strength in corn helped to bring about a strong rally in wheat toward the close of the day. The Minneapolis market was off 1/4¢, and at one time there was a sharp break on a statement made by Representative Sydney Anderson of Minnesota who was quoted as calling for another investigation of the grain exchange, claiming he could see little hope for better markets in Europe for some time to come.

Country offerings of oats is arriving early signs of increasing as harvesting is making rapid progress. Bids were on the heels of 1/4¢ over September for No. 2 white and 1/4¢ over for No. 3 white. Futures had a range of 1/4¢, the latter on July, while finishing at 1/4¢, September at 1/4¢, and December at 1/4¢.

New Rice from Iowa.

A few new No. 2 rice, the first of the season, was received yesterday from Iowa and sold at 1/4¢, or 1/4¢ over July. The market showed an easy undertone throughout the day with a slow advance. Demand and the finish was about the low point at the inside figures on the crop.

Strength in hog prices at the yards with a heaviest demand led to fair buying and an advance in cured product. Lard finished 1/4¢ and the hog higher for the day. Liverpool lard was 1/4¢ higher. Prices follow:

Wheat, July 18, 1923. High 11.00, Low 10.90, Close 10.95.

PREUS' DEFEAT
BRINGS OUT NEW
HARDING RIVALS

Kenyon and Johnson
May Be Entries.

(BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.)
Washington, D. C., July 18.—[Opposition to the renomination of President Harding, which appeared to melt away in the sun of returning prosperity several months ago, shows unmistakable signs of reviving as a result of the radical landslide in Minnesota and the widespread discontent among the farmers, intensified at this time by the sagging wheat market. New efforts by party leaders to induce Mr. Harding to gracefully decline a second term may be expected. A movement of this sort had gained considerable momentum after the Republican reverses in the 1922 election, but it died out when prosperity came along, and for months Republican leaders have been proceeding on the theory that nothing could stand seriously in the way of Mr. Harding's renomination.

Two sources of trouble. They were confident that the farmers, helped by the legislation put through in the closing days of Congress with the administration's support, would share the general prosperity, and that opposition to giving Mr. Harding a second nomination would find it impossible to get a foothold anywhere.

It is said, now, they concede that the farmers haven't been helped, and are now ready to vent their wrath on the administration. Furthermore, the fact, while it takes Mr. Harding's renomination, hasn't been pleased by the extra dry favor of Mr. Harding's own speeches, they admit, is a serious matter.

The boom launched in New York yesterday by Senator Brookhart (Rep., Ind.) for Judge Kenyon, former partner from Iowa, was no sudden inspiration. Friends of the judge, many of whom thought he made a great mistake when he retired from the senate last year, have been keeping close eye on political developments, ready to jump the judge's hat into the ring the moment they think the psychological moment has arrived.

Room for Kenyon. Judge Kenyon is radical enough to suit Brookhart but he was conservative enough to receive a federal circuit judgeship appointment from President Harding. Special significance may be attached to Senator Brookhart's boom launching when it is remembered that he is Senator La Follette's closest follower in the senate. It is well known that several other senators are ready to boost the Kenyon boom and much more may be heard of it anon.

Whether Senator La Follette would be willing to support Judge Kenyon is doubtful. It has been generally expected that "Fighting Bob" would himself be a candidate against President Harding and this belief has been strengthened by Magnus Johnson's victory in Minnesota, which was in a sense a La Follette triumph. Some observers believe he might be induced to throw his support to some other radical when it became apparent to him that his own chances were gone. Perhaps Senator Brookhart has made the first move to get La Follette into the race for Kenyon.

The other Senator Johnson. The Minnesota results add new interest to the return of Senator Hiram Johnson (Rep., Cal.) from his extended tour in Europe. Preparations have already been made to give him a rousing welcome when he reaches New York next week. An elaborate banquet committee are many conservative New Yorkers, who regarded Johnson as "Gentle Boy" when he was fighting for the Republican nomination in 1916. It is no secret that quite a number of senators are ready to climb aboard the Johnson band wagon if it ever gets going. Senator Moses (Rep., N. H.), chairman of the Republican senatorial campaign committee, is said to be one of Johnson's strongest supporters. It would be no surprise here if the New York reception was featured by the official launching of the Hiram Johnson boom.

Magnus Called a Lincoln. Madison, Wis., July 11.—Senator Robert M. La Follette will call for Europe about Aug. 1, to study economic and labor conditions in England, Germany, Denmark, and other countries, he announced today. He will return about Oct. 1. He will be accompanied by Mrs. La Follette, their son, R. M. La Follette Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. Basil Bailey of Washington. This will be Senator La Follette's (Continued on page 4, column 3)
